About Leilani Nakagawa

Leilani's dance journey spans 20 years and includes training in many styles. She has been teaching and coaching professionally for the past 9 years. She is the owner of Uptown Dance Studio in Tigard, OR, where she enjoys her passion of sharing the joy of dance with her community. When Leilani started exploring WCS in 2009, she immediately fell in love with the freedom of expressivity offered in the dance and decided to study it extensively.

Leilani has had the privilege to train under many of the top professionals on the circuit and is now an All Star level WCS dancer. She greatly enjoys discovering all the amazing dance concepts WCS has to offer and plans to enjoy dancing WCS for the rest of her life.

About Joe Broderick

Joe's dancing career started on the UCWDC floor where he enjoyed dancing to country music. After attending his first WCS-only dance event, he was hooked, and has now been dancing WCS for the past 12 years. Joe enjoys the vast range of music that WCS offers and the seemingly endless possibilities each dance provides.

Joe also has a passion for DJ'ing and has now made that one of his focuses in the WCS community. He enjoys discovering new and unique music that gets people on the dance floor, as well as bringing back the classic favorites of yesteryear.
